Mindcoast Inc. was founded in 2003 to create a software to help nonprofits, universities, and individual writers meet their grant goals.

Why design software for nonprofits? Because we've been there! We know what it's like to care passionately about a cause but lack the tools to further the cause. How frustrating is it to try to manage and track multiple grants with inadequate tools? Very! That's why we created GrantWave, a comprehensive grant management and writing software package that will help you manage all your grants, from 5 to 105 and any number in-between.

While our fundraising days are over, we're excited about working with nonprofits. We know there are many fundraising options out there, but we don't think grant management has been sufficiently addressed. We think GrantWave will change this, and we're looking forward to helping more nonprofits reach their grant goals.
