Mindcoast, Inc has released GrantWave v3, a comprehensive grant management and grant writing software.

Designed for non-profit organizations, GrantWave v3's new features include a robust financial tracking and reporting module that makes it easy for organizations to build budgets, track expenditures, and review their financials at a glance. Additionally this updated version includes the most frequently requested feature of calendar and contact information synchronization with Microsoft Outlook. GrantWave v3's new multi-user feature is tailored for mid-sized organizations to maintain database integrity and control among multiple users involved in the pre- and post-award grant management process.

Since its original release in 2004, GrantWave has helped hundreds of non-profit organizations, universities, local governments, and individual grant writers organize their information into a single database and improve their ability to effectively and efficiently pursue funding opportunities.

"What makes this release of GrantWave v3 unique is that we listened to our current customers and incorporated their requests as new features, thereby improving and evolving GrantWave to meet the needs of today's grant seeking organizations," stated Sascha Koenig, Executive Director of Mindcoast, Inc.
